To whom it may concern,

This letter is in regards to Jenni Wagner. Jenni teaches with me at Anne Mason Elementary as a special education teacher who provides resource and coteaching services to kindergarten and first grade students. We hired her at the beginning of December, but she presents herself as though she has been here since the beginning of the school year.

Jenni has implemented strategies that have allowed her students to make progress in the short time she has been working with them. She has jumped right in and created engaging lessons and activities for her students. She has taken the time to learn about them, their learning styles and their history. She asks for guidance when she requires it, but has confidence in her abilities that show through her practices. She is a team player and collaborates well with the regular education teachers as well as her team when looking for ways to improve. She has implemented strategies that have helped her students academically, socially and with their sensory needs. Her love of her students and knowledge of previous educational experiences have greatly benefited her during her short while at Anne Mason.

Please feel free to reach out to me regarding Jenni. You can do so through my email at tina.durham@scott.kyschools.us or my cell phone at 5023160879.

Sincerely,
